Reading one. Read the following passage and then choose the best choice. (2 points)

Respecting old people has always been of great value throughout the history of human beings. One important issue that every new generation faces is behaving towards old people in a respectful way.

As people get older, they lose their ability to do the activities they used to do, that's why they need someone to help them. This doesn't mean that we should make everything prepared and ready for them because they need to do physical activities as much as possible. One important fact here is that they can't be as fast as they used to be, so they do everything slower and we need to treat them with a great deal of patience.

One important way of respecting old people is to ask their opinions about different matters. If we do so, not only can we use their wisdom and experience which have been gained throughout their life, but also they are considered as wise and helpful people. Another point that needs to be taken into consideration is that old people prefer to spend their time in calm and quiet places. For this reason, it's better to create such a place if it is possible. Don't forget that depression is more common among old people, especially those who live without their husband or wife face this problem more. This fact means that they need more attention and care.

All in all, showing respect and attention to old people helps them feel a sense of importance and this makes their life more enjoyable.

- a. are not good advisors
- b. may face mental disorders

- d. are more interested in crowded places

- a. old people
- b. respect and attention
- c. feeling a sense of importance
- d. enjoyable life

40. Which one is Not mentioned in the passage?

- a. Old people are considered as experienced people.
- b. Those old people who are single are more probable to be depressed.
- c. Living with an old person requires a lot of patience.
- d. Old people prefer to live alone.

Reading two. Read the passage and then answer the following questions. (2 points)

Artists use color to create patterns. Color can also show different moods. Bright colors make us feel happy and energetic. Dark colors make us feel calm or sad.

The primary colors are red, yellow, and blue. They are the colors that can be mixed together to make different colors. Mixing two primary colors makes a secondary color. The secondary colors are orange, green, and violet (purple). Orange is made by mixing yellow and red. Green is made by mixing yellow and blue. Violet is made by mixing red and blue. Intermediate colors can be made by mixing a primary and a secondary color together. Some intermediate colors are blue violet and red orange. Black, white, and gray are special colors. They are called neutral colors.

Colors have been organized into a color wheel. It shows the three primary colors, the three secondary colors, and the six intermediate colors. Artists use the color wheel. It helps them know which colors they want to use together.
